This Notice of Privacy Practices applies to your treatment information generated and/or maintained by The Haven.

This Notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose your treatment information. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of your treatment information.

Law requires The Haven, to:

HOW WE MAY USE OR DISCLOSE TREATMENT INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

SUBSTANCE ABUSE HEALTH INFORMATION. All treatment information regarding substance abuse is kept strictly confidential and released only in conformance with the requirements of federal law (42 U.S.C. 290dd-3 and 42 U.S.C. 290ee-3) and regulation (42 C.F.R. part 2). Disclosure of any treatment information referencing alcohol or substance abuse may only be made with your written authorization. A general authorization for the release of treatment or other information is not sufficient for this purpose.

The following describes different ways we use and disclose your treatment information. (Because you are receiving services for the evaluation and treatment of substance abuse, the specific rules above apply to the use and disclosure of information related to these services.)

- For Treatment. The Haven may use your treatment information to provide you with behavioral health treatment or services. We may disclose your treatment information to psychiatrists, your primary care practitioner, physicians, nurses, therapists, case managers or other behavioral health professionals who are involved in your care. For example, a psychiatrist treating you may need to know if you have allergies to certain psychotropic medications. The psychiatrist may need to contact your primary care physician to obtain that information. Different staff at The Haven may also share your treatment information to arrange services you may need. Different departments of your primary behavioral health provider may also share your treatment or medical information in order to coordinate the services you need, such as medications, therapy, or case management.

- For Payment. We may use and disclose your treatment information so that the treatment and services you receive may be billed and payment may be collected from appropriate payers, such as Cenpatico, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may need to give your network provider information about the treatment you received here so we can receive payment. Your network provider may share your treatment or medical information with your insurance company or a third party payer to check that you qualify for services, or to obtain approval for the services requested.
- For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose your treatment information for the business activities of The Haven and our contracted behavioral health providers. These uses and disclosures are necessary for administrative functioning and to ensure our clients receive quality care. For example, Cenpatico may use your treatment information to review The Haven's provider services, and to evaluate our performance in caring for you. We may combine treatment information about many members to decide what additional services The Haven and Cenpatico and its provider network should offer, what services are needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may use and disclose your treatment information to assess The Haven's compliance with the Arizona Department of Health Services, Cenpatico, or by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities. For example, this disclosure may be required to evaluate the quality of services we provide or to resolve a specific treatment issue you have raised.
- Individuals Involved in Your Care. We may release your treatment information to a family member actively involved in your care and treatment as allowed under Arizona state law and in accordance with Haven policies and procedures. This information is limited and will not be disclosed without first obtaining your written authorization.

HIV INFORMATION. All medical information regarding HIV is kept strictly confidential and released only in conformance with the requirements of state law (A.R.S. 36-664). Disclosure of any medical information referencing HIV status may only be made with your written authorization. A general authorization for the release of medical, treatment or other information is not sufficient for this purpose.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES. Federal and state laws allow or require The Haven, your primary behavioral health provider, and its contracted provider network to disclose your treatment or medical information in certain special circumstances that include, but are not limited to, the situations described below.

- Public Health (Health and Safety for you and/or others). We may disclose your medical

For example, a research project may involve the care and recovery of all members who receive one medication for the same condition. All research projects are subject to a special approval process. We will obtain your written authorization if the researcher will use or disclose your treatment information.
- Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose your treatment information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities may include audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure.
